

Andres Sadler
CEO of Global Business Services
Wolters Kluwer

Mr. Sadler is CEO, Global Business Services since February 2015. In the previous 12 years at Wolters Kluwer, Mr. Sadler has been a thought leader and architect of key strategic initiatives and has helped lead the transformation to a digital enterprise. Most recently, he was the Senior Vice President, Strategy & Operational Excellence.

Before joining Wolters Kluwer, Mr. Sadler was a Partner at Accenture's Strategy and Business Architecture Practice working in the United States and Latin America.

Prior to that, he was a Principal at Booz, Allen & Hamilton where he led engagements focused on strategy development, operations improvement, and technology planning for media entertainment companies.

Mr. Sadler has an MBA from Harvard and a BS in Computer Science from Tufts University.