

Dennis M. Cahill
Executive Vice President Online Services
Wolters Kluwer Global Platform Organization

Dennis Cahill is Executive Vice President Online Services for Wolters Kluwer Global Platform Organization (GPO), since October 2010. In this position, Mr. Cahill leads the Online Services Organization within GPO to support Wolters Kluwer's business units with the design and implementation of online services that are delivered through the company's content delivery and publishing platform Global Atlas, Portal Technologies (Vesta), and Mobile Platforms (iOS, Android, RIM).

Prior to joining Wolters Kluwer, Mr. Cahill was Senior Vice President of Technology and Chief Product Officer Enterprise Media Group at Dow Jones & Company, a global provider of news and business information and a developer of technology to deliver content to consumers and organizations across multiple platforms, where he led the launch and commercialization of Factiva as a joint venture between Dow Jones and Reuters. He released Factiva versions across Europe, Asia Pacific, and North America.

Mr. Cahill is a business and technology visionary with an outstanding track record of increasing market share and bottom line profits. He has strong accomplishments in customer-centric product development, agile product and technology development, P&L leadership, and change management.

Mr. Cahill holds a Bachelor of Science in Electrical and Computer Engineering from State University of New York in the United States.
